

ROMAN BUNDLE 13

The International Journal of the Bearly Made It Skydive Squad. Fully Froscribed By Most of the Worlds Leading Kite Organisations. Guaranteed Cabbage Friendly.

Hi. Everybody, Welcome dear Readers to another.. Alright, Alright, Sid, them as can read, them as cant can lok at the Pictures. Yes Brother Sid, we're quite aware of that FACT, we dont need you to tell us. Gordon Bennett, what is it with R.C. are we the only Newsletter thats up to its Arse in Dikheads or what? (Oi, Fred, you cant say things like that, this is a Family Newsletter. C.C.) Oh, sorry about that Folks, you know what its like.

Did any of you read that Strange letter in the last Issue of K.O.N. whoops, sorry, KITEFLIER, Heavvy. I dont know where them Swedes got the idea that EMISS is cruel to Cabbages. The only people we are cruel to are Dik, sorry Dropniks.

In fact, when we give the Ayatollah Cabbage a Bell and told him about it, he done his Nut. He reckons them Swedes are well Barmy and real Jealous of Cabbages, 'cos they seem to think that the Cabbages had something going with all them Cabbage Patch Dolls. What if they did?, Its a free Country, and Nobodys business but thiers. So there you have it, straight from the Top Cabbages mouth. Root Vegetables are Raving Mad Pal, and EMISS is Green and Cabbage Friendly.

Teddy proves Who Bears Wins

TODAY 30.3.89

A RAMBO teddy bear who went missing in action during a parachute jump was back at base yesterday after six months battling the elements.

Danger Ted Aberdeen, who stands only seven inches tall, vanished during a sponsored leap from 10,000ft near Swansea airport.

Jump organisers, who counted 96 teddies out but only 95 back, launched a huge search.

But they could not find Aberdeen in the long grass.

Back on the home front owner Susan Chetri, five, from Neath, West Glamorgan was heartbroken when she heard her teddy had gone down behind enemy lines.

She had been promised £10 in sponsorship money for a local children's home, but could not collect it until she had Aberdeen and a certificate to prove he had made the jump.

Everyone thought Aberdeen was a goner. But the tough teddy was showing the sort of survival skills that could change the SAS motto to Who Bears Wins.

His marathon yomp home ended when parachute club chief instructor Dave Howerski made an off-target jump himself and landed almost on top of Aberdeen.

Dave, 39, said: "He was looking very bedraggled, but my daughter Amy took him in and washed him and nursed him back to health.

"We had really given hope after he slipped off a parachutist's belt and 20 of us couldn't find him anywhere.

"Now we're delighted to get him back as he was the first trainee we had ever lost."

Little Susan debriefed Aberdeen after his mission and discovered the secret of his survival.

"He said the rabbits found him and took care of him," she revealed.

This Story, which incidetaly, the Cardboard Cutout pinchwd from TODAY will not lead to any form of Record being recognised by EMISS. As you will note, these Bears did not Descend on thier own Chutes, as they were attached to the Humes Belts. And the bit about being loked after by the Rabbits is rather Twewe, as those Coneys cold not have been related in any way to Brother Sid, 'cos if he had found that Bear, he would have probably Mugged him.

Plans are underway for variuos attempts on the Grreatest Number of Fauna to be dropped from a Kite. At present this Record is held by Dipnik whoops Dropnik Locke with a Total of Thirtynine.

We have discussed these proposed attempts with those who who are involved, (no names for the present.) the discussions being along the lines of what Criteria are needed for Record attempts.

Its all quite simple. We dont mind how the Fauna are Packed, though an individual Pack would be nice. But each Fauna MUST have an individual Parachute, which must fully Deploy to be counted.

A HOT NUMBER IN OCTOPUS SCHMUTTER, AS FEATURED IN THE JERRYCO CATALOGUE. VIA THEODORE EDWARD O'BEAR. ESQ.

MK 21 MOD 0

A 4-1/2 foot white nylon parachute, complete with nylon webbing lines. Rather more traditionally styled than some we've had, this one has a hole (intentionally) at the top, and one near the end of each of the eight gores (also intentional) that comprise the chute. As all of the holes are neatly hemmed and symmetrically located, we have surmised that they were put in by the manufacturer and not by the enemy. Good decorative possibilities. An ideal cape for an octopus, and smart even for the two-armed amongst us. Just think, one can even change sleeve sets four times between laundering !!

5090 Parachute 4-1/2 foot $13.50/each

If by any chance, BMISS was to create a Gallery of Heroes, then surely the first Candidate for Installation in that said Gallery would be War Dog 'ROB', Britains first Parachuting War Dog, he served with Distinction in North Africa and Italy with 2nd Regt. Special Air Service, the S.A.S.

ROB, a Border Collie was brought up on a Welsh Hill Farm where naturally he was a Sheepdog. The attributes of a Sheepdog were very useful to the Military, and they found that ROB took to Parachuting like a natural.

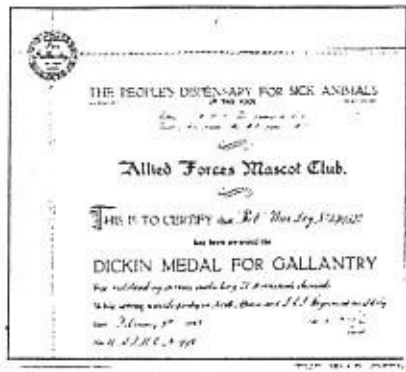

It was observed that on Descent he dropped with his Tail wagging, and on landing, he executed the perfect Parachute Roll. As soon as he was released from his Harness, he set about locating and gathering the men of his Detachment.

ROB served 3 1/2 Years in the Army and was Twice awarded the Dicken Medal for Gallantry, the Animal V.C.

ROB survived the War, and in 1945 was returned to his Owners. When he Passed away in 1952, they erected a Fine Memorial to a Gallant Dog.

We of BMISS do Parachuting for laughs, but ROB was in it for real.

So if we did form a Gallery of Heroes we think that all Members would agree that WAR Dog ROB would be a worthy First Admission.

Rob's Citation, Him in Action and his Memorial,

ROB

OFFICIAL BMISS HERO

It could be said that Theodore Edward O8Bear, erstwhile Genius and Driving force behind that Megabuck Kite Publishing Conglomerate, Dirt Cheap Press, the Mob who gave the World TEMILOLKWKFR, regards BMISS as being in need of a good Tooling Up.

Amongst the masses of info he sends us was a nice Catalogue from Phoenix Systems of Colorado, entitled The Right Stuff No. 9. Chock full of Military type gear, this Catalogue had the Cardboard Cutout Drooling. Among the Items which caught our eye was Glaser Ammunition (No Prisoners) Boobytrap Firing Devices, Rifle Grenades, C.S. Gas, 81mm Mortar Rounds and perhaps just the thing for the Kite Society Convention. Your own personal Riot Buster Smoke Grenade, Guaranteed to contain 100,000 c.ft. of Smoke. Which Reminds us. If any of you want a really good Laugh, dont forget that the Cardboard Cutout will be attempting to give a Talk on Parachuting Bears etc at the Kite Society Convention in Bristol. You are all invited to come along and take the P; ; ; Mickey out of the Boring Old Fart. Hey, Rasta. we'd better send off for one of those Riot Buster Smoke Bombs, they're only 8 Bucks.

BMISS/ Roman Candle seems to have got them going North of the Border. Two of the H.Q. are on a working holiday in Edinburgh with Dropnik to be Paul Carline. It seems that the working part of the Holiday went off O.K. So its likely that before long we Will have an Hibernian Branch of BMISS.

ROYAL RED TED TOPS THE LOT!
A red-haired teddy bear once owned by a Russian princess fetched a record £12,100 at Christie's in London yesterday. Alfonso, favourite toy of Princess Xenia, a cousin of Tsar Nicholas II, was sold to Oxford antiques dealer Ian Pout.

THE SUN

← This little story about a Red Haired Bear going for 12, grand red Leroy to wonder if we Painted Rasta with Gloss Red Paint, maybe we could find some Mug to give us 12 bob for him as thats all hes worth.... Take Cover.

So once again dear Members, Apologies for the Spelling (COR) Mistakes etcetera. Your News, Views and anything Parachute are required, so extract them Furry Digits You Rotten Lot....

Editorial Address ttttt. Fred Bear. 48. Laurel Lane, W/Drayton, Middx. UB7. 7TY.
BMISS Events . Gamley Bear & Greg Locke. 53. New Road, Shoreham by Sea, W/Sussex. EN4. 6RB.

